What are Relative Clauses Sentences?

- Una oración de relativo nos da información adicional sobre un nombre en una frase. Usamos los siguientes pronombres relativos: who, which, that, whose, when and where para conectar ideas.
- Los pronombres relativos hacen la función de unir dos oraciones. La segunda oración que va después del pronombre relativo se llama oración de relativo.

Types of Relative Clauses Sentences

- Hay dos tipos de oraciones de relativo: defining relative clause y non-defining relative clause.
- Defining relative clauses nos dan información necesaria y esencial para entender la frase. Si eliminamos la defining relative clause, la frase quedaría incompleta y no tendría sentido.

Veamos el siguiente ejemplo:

- This is the designer. She did the drawings.
- This is the designer who did the drawings.

Types of Relative Clauses Sentences

- Non-defining relative clauses añaden información extra a la oración principal, pero esta información no es clave para entender el significado completo de la frase.
- Si eliminamos la non-defining relative clause, la frase quedaría aún completa. Este tipo de frases tienen las siguientes características:
 - Siempre aparecen entre comas.
 - No usan el pronombre "that".
 - El pronombre relativo no se puede omitir.

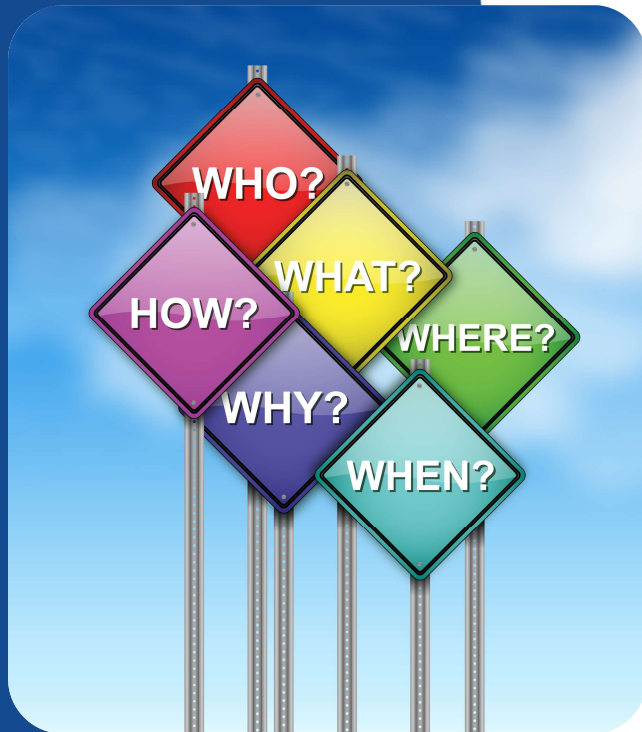

Veamos los siguientes ejemplos:

- Lisa is 65 years old. She is still working in the firm.
- Lisa, who is still working in the firm, is 65 years old.

The background is a solid blue color. Overlaid on this is a faint, stylized globe. The globe is composed of a grid of small squares, with some squares being a slightly lighter shade of blue than others, creating a 3D effect. Numerous small, light blue arrows are scattered across the background, pointing in various directions, suggesting movement or a global network.
